If you were able to remake the internet by hand, how would you recreate it and why?

For a start…
- Topple the monopolies.
- Bring an end to enshitification.
- Limit & restrict the use of AI.
  - (At least the versions of such currently being forced down out throats.)
- Impose a global right to be forgotten.
- Destroy all walled gardens.
- Allow users to move from community to community, while still maintaining all their connections & content, as they see fit.
- Trust users.
- Prohibit all forms of censorship.
